601 D Street NW, Suite 1200
Washington, DC 20530-0001

Dear Ms. Renata Hesse:

Please continue the economically necessary prosecution against Microsoft. This hasn't gone on long enough.

Microsoft has only agreed to hide its Internet Explorer icon from the desktop; the fact is, this case against Microsoft is little more than "levelling the playing field" for Netscape and other Microsoft competitors, with not a nickel going to those grievously harmed by Microsoft: the computer user.

This is another method for states to recover illegally obtained money, and an important precedent for the future, not only in terms of computer technology, but all sorts of innovations in the most dynamic industry the world has ever seen.

Please prosecute this much delayed and stymied execution of justice more forcefully than has been the case previously. Thank you.

Sincerely,

John McDonald
